

Application to join the I-CORE on Integrated Structural Cell Biology

The center of Research Excellence (I-CORE) on Integrated Structural Cell Biology is calling for applications for 2015 for new faculty members to join.

To apply, the candidate is required to hold an offer from either WIS, TAU or the Technion for a tenure track faculty position. The application procedure will consist of two phases. In the first round, which deadline is 23rd of April 2015 the applicant will have to submit his/her CV and up to a two page document on past and future research and how this will benefit from being part of this I-CORE. In addition, a letter from the accepting department on their intention of hiring (even if hiring was not formally finalized). Following the first round, applicants will be requested to submit a full proposal for the selection process to join the I-CORE. Each new member of this I-CORE will receive a start up grant as well as 1,500,000 NIS over five years for his/her research.

Detailed information on our I-CORE is found at: <http://www.weizmann.ac.il/icore/scb>

Sincerely yours

Prof. Gideon Schreiber, Scientific director
